Could have a list of options and people pick 1-10 mood to least important. Get a lot more info.	Would love the city to have an "ambassadors" program for each neighborhood that welcomes people - gets them registered to vote, invites them to neighborhood night, introduces their kids to other neighborhood kids, etc. Discussion seemed to break down into us (locals) and them (people who moved in). Sorry to see conversation break down.

Individuals should write directly on personal sheets first, as quieter people did not get as many (or any) ideas placed on sheets. Rather difficult to summarize priorities - good for intra-group conversations but not so good for representing ideas to larger group. Avoid having multiple facilitators.	Thank you! Keep doing this. My friends that are not on social media did not about these. Get the signs up in all communities in Boise. Finally, I am not aware of Blueprint Boise. So, dont assume you can stop education the public - keep talking to us in all communication mediums.

But, I want more time to discuss the details of what makes a, for example, usable transportation system.	Thank you for doing this. I believe we can make our city wonderful - but only if we do it together. Great facilitator! Nice to meet new people and engage in conversations intelligently. Nice snacks and refreshments. Thank you! Overall good - obviously everyone has similar concerns. Hopefully this will be taken to heard and acted on. Valley wide planning is critical. Thank you for providing a platform for people to bring ideas and thoughts out. It was good to see the themes develop. We have a great city, getting ahead of the growth very important to our future success. All stakeholders need to be represented or at least heard. We had some diversity in terms of age and time in Boise and location, but numerous demographic segments not present - which may have something to do with how these events are advertised. Great concept for sharing ideas. Sharing, what we like and dont like - now share online or survey or video. Facilitator is great - good knowledge about including ideas. Make information and resources easier to access online so we can engage more with you and opt in for more. The facilitator was fantastic - great job! Thanks for doing this. The city does not appear to do a good job on outreach. As a person of color, I was disappointed there were only 2 or 3 of us. I learned of this session via NPR. Please consider all outreach options not just newspaper and facebook. Take what the citizens say into consideration. Please don't just hold these workshops to look good and then turn a blind eye. Truly take what these people say into consideration. Thank you. Keep it up.

Actual input into the political process to feel that our concerns are/will be addressed. It is nice to vent but its even better when action/change occurs. Otherwise there will be a lot of unsatisfied/disillusioned participants. Discussion of cost benefit analysis and alternatives.	Thank you for doing this. For example, some tables attempted to develop solutions to concerns while other tables were told specifically not to come up with solutions. That creates a feeling that some tables didn't get enough say. Explain that there will be follow up, more meetings, etc. For example, will there be more public meetings to help brainstorm solutions?	Huge thanks for the City of Boise for holding these meetings. It shows a true commitment to listening to citizens. I enjoyed the sense of community and feel less isolated in my concerns for this special place. I'm a 5th generation Idahoan/Boiseans and I dont want to see the livability and affordability and environmental quality change for the worse. It was great to see that in this room, we came up with similar ideas/concerns. Good to start with positives then concerns. Jim Pardy kicks butt! Great job on having lots of staff to have things run smoothly. Boise needs to be more of a lone wolf approach - you are doing a good job - rest of TV is lacking - go for it! Continue doing these! It would be awesome to see an ambassador program that has a similar set up. Just definitely continue doing these workshops within each department. Overall very insightful.

I supposed I would have felt 10ish about the workshop if we had a little more acknowledgement that concrete solutions would come of this. Blueprint Boise and the LIV report are wonderful documents but if they dont have any teeth (as some said) it doesnt mean anything.	I heard a lot of my fellow citizens saying that Blueprint Boise was an excellent concept - except city leaders are not following it. Dont make the same mistake or your citizen participation will fade away. Please address the rampant development and predatory property management companies. These industries are destroying our communities. Also, wages are shameful. Stadium impact very concerning The discussion was good and it was interesting to see the topics that individuals and groups came up with. I'm very concerned about the safety of our roads, in the intersections, the lack of police interaction when their are blatant violations. Keep this process going - citizens of Boise are alarmed at the explosiveness of growth and the feeling that city leaders are pressuring their own goals/vision for Boise As far as city culture goes - could you, the city. create an ad campaign that features the best of Boise, our slow life pace, friendliness, cleanliness- in order to educate our newest city members that now that they're here they can slow down, wave to their neighbors, etc.

The benefits and excitements of growth (not just Boise today) were not a focus. That skews the discussion and get people more riled up than they need to be. It was framed as trade-offs. It was viewed as what's good and whats endangering these things.	I would LOVE to discuss this more

I hope you will be able to take the concerns and try to make efforts to remedy. The themes were strong. 1. affordable housing 2. traffic and transportation 3. environment and protecting it I appreciate the city taking input from the public. Dont let Boise become another Austin by allowing growth to get ahead of infrastructure. the last minute waitlist system was great, glad to be able to participate.

Sharing, what we like and dont like - now share online or survey or video. Facilitator is great - good knowledge about including ideas. Make information and resources easier to access online so we can engage more with you and opt in for more. The facilitator was fantastic - great job! Thanks for doing this. The city does not appear to do a good job on outreach. As a person of color, I was disappointed there were only 2 or 3 of us. I learned of this session via NPR. Please consider all outreach options not just newspaper and facebook. Take what the citizens say into consideration. Please don't just hold these workshops to look good and then turn a blind eye. Truly take what these people say into consideration. Thank you. Keep it up.

Hope they will all be included/considered eg protection of farmland didn't make our top 3 but it is important.	Appreciate that the raw data will be made available - full transparency. Now hopefully accountability with any decisions/actions
10090954387	212914378	2018-06-29 15:29:39	2018-06-29 15:30:15	06/28/2018	7			good format but facilitation could have been a little more effective at my table - small number of folks controlled the conversation	NA

Lots of commonalities - both concerns and what we liked. Encourage later groups to put forth other concerns.	Thank you for this opportunity. More of this please.

								Challenge groups to add new thoughts. Everyone start with a 10+ then share 3 new ideas when it is time for your table to share.	We can try to collaborate with the entire valley, but we'll never convince anyone unless its good for them to. Makes planning tough - but not impossible. New library - YES! Stadium - YES! (if privately funded, mostly)

Please do come up with more creative, inclusive ways to engage residents in shaping the growth of our lovely city. Take City Council out to all parts of Boise. If you make decisions that don't reflect public input, tell us why. Help us to become better educated citizens advocates for our future. Growth is hard and painful - bring in some inspiring experts to help us some up with smart growth solutions - how we increase density with solid sound proofing, good public spaces, affordability, and good public transit and safe biking - all over town!
10090811491	212914378	2018-06-29 13:44:27	2018-06-29 13:48:30	06/28/2018				I am very satisfied! I think it went great! At the end the moderator injected anti "north end" - actually only one group mentioned north end - i am a north ender and am sensitive to our privileged status. we have a 10 great urban design thanks to great city planning 100 years ago!	It was mentioned that it is hard to pull stand-alone issues out of a general sense of alarm and dismay, which many here are feeling! All the issues presented from each table are inter connected and the intersecting arch is city, county and state, leadership and governance. This is not a sprint...we need more thoughtful planning/coordination .
10090804910	212914378	2018-06-29 13:34:42	2018-06-29 13:44:25	06/28/2018	7			Sticky dots no not work for this exercise - too limiting and there is not enough for my top issues.	Blueprint Boise map doesn't match the goals, specifically in Northwest Neighborhood Association boundaries. The goals are authentic, agriculture, variety of lots, yet in our areas the development has been over the top, high compact density. This does not match the goals. We want a unique community NOT such a high percentage of apartments.
10090789540	212914378	2018-06-29 13:28:49	2018-06-29 13:34:40	06/28/2018				Affordable housing is a phrase coined that is similar to "right to work." Affordable housing if emphasizing apartments versus smaller affordable homes to purchase only benefit the investors (often out of state investors). I think it is wise to invest in smaller affordable housing that people can purchase not rent. Then they can walk away from that property in the future and have equity to invest in another property. This plan will contribute to LONG TERM LOCAL FINANCIAL HEALTH of the individual and create a community that invests in their neighborhood.	Getting tired of the Mayor's defensiveness when speaking publicly. "We know you will be nice because we fed you." A good event - hopefully follow through will occur. How on earth did the new library happen? The blueprint needs to re-done.
